

To: Governor
From: Buddy B
Re: Heartland Building Products
Date: January 5, 2009

Governor,

ProVia Door of Sugarcreek, Ohio, has purchased the assets of Heartland Building Products in Booneville from Jancor Companies, as well as two separate manufacturing facilities in Olive Branch and Macon.

The unstated story according to Chandler Russ: ProVia will start operations with 55 jobs in Booneville, ramping up to 200 jobs over three years.

The company is committed to keeping 45 jobs at the Outdoor Technologies plant in Macon.

ProVia Door is not committed to keeping Olive Branch open; Chandler says the Olive Branch operation will likely close.

But, the company is not willing to publicly announce the number of jobs, nor is it willing to say at this point that Olive Branch will be closed.

He did say your call to the PNC chairman was very helpful in working this deal.